EDPlan™ Early Warning & Intervention Management Solutions

Provide your teachers with the tools they need to effectively support student success. EDPlan can help.

Best practices and research inform the notion that educators must proactively cultivate student success. School personnel understand that not all students can meet grade-level standards without supplemental or intensive interventions. By integrating key supports and services into the curriculum structure through a multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS) and utilizing an early warning system (EWS), educators can more effectively support student success.

Public Consulting Group (PCG) partners with school districts and states to support the critical work teachers are charged with doing. Our educational consulting expertise and technology solutions, including the EDPlan Suite for Student Success, allow us to fully support district needs. EDPlan's early warning and intervention management modules, EDPlan Identify™ and EDPlan Intervene™, respectively, are PK-12 problem-solving, web-based solutions designed to identify students at risk, then seamlessly create and manage academic and behavior interventions within a framework of multi-tiered supports and services. Fully customizable, these solutions integrate all relevant data sources to generate insightful reports that answer critical questions about students, classrooms, grade levels, and schools.
